PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2009 – present Policy Associate, Cutler Institute for Health & Social Policy, Muskie School of Public Service, University of Southern Maine and the Maine Rural Health Research Center. Provides leadership and management to policy analysis and applied research projects within the Cutler Institute’s Population Health and Health Policy program and the Maine Rural Health Research Center. Responsible for developing and directing small to medium sized projects and for making project design, substantive, and analytic contributions to more complex projects. Activities and skills include conceptualization of project design, identification of funding opportunities and proposal development; design and execution of methodological and analytic work plans; identification of data sources to address rural health policy concerns; analysis and interpretation of data, qualitative analyses; and assurance of the quality and integrity of work conducted by project team members and subcontractors. Additionally, frames policy implications and disseminates project findings via project reports, presentations, policy briefs and published peer-reviewed articles. Trains research and administrative staff in the use of online search techniques, bibliographic software, and document retrieval.
- 2001 – 2009 Information Specialist. Muskie School of Public Service, University of Southern Maine. Provided research support to the Maine Rural Health Research Center and the Institute for Health Policy. Developed and maintained a collection of research, policy, and academic publications and information resources in a variety of formats that support the ongoing research needs of the Institute for Health Policy, including the Maine Rural Health Research Center, and enhance the teaching functions of Muskie faculty, including but not limited to online literature searches, reference assistance, acquisitions, interlibrary loan, and document delivery. Managed the publications section of the Muskie School website, prepared and/or coordinated written descriptions of Muskie School publications, developed systems for informing appropriate audiences of the availability of these publications. Provided one-on-one and group instruction in effective and efficient information retrieval methods. Directed, developed, and administered information and publication dissemination services within the Institute for Health Policy.

Developed systems for organizing and disseminating reports, articles, and other products to targeted and interested audiences.

1995 – 2001
